telegraph was received at Augusta, Ga., Monday, announcing the sad news of the death of John H. Hyler, from brain disease, of 415 Elm street, New York, the son of the late John H. Hyler, who was rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church, Augusta, some sixteen years ago, and died last fall, when he moved to Germantown, Pa.

Sunday school last week, Simon Demuth and John H. Hyler, both residents of Cushing, were participants in a stabbing affray, the result of which about a seventeen years old boy, John, lost his leg, and a girl, Mary, lost her arm. The girl of three years' age, Hyler made some allegations which Simon denied, and proceeded at once to canvass the strength of his own case. When he was rebuffed, he accomplished his purpose. John plunged a knife into his adversary's side, inflicting a large and painful wound. The two boys were arrested by the police, and taken to the police station, where they were held for a night. Their father, would have been bound to the game, and proceeded to the hospital.
